

When Should I Call Hospice?

When some, but not necessarily all, of these signs are of concern to you:

- Uncontrolled or increasing pain
- Increased shortness of breath
- Progressive fluid retention or swelling
- Uncontrolled nausea and vomiting
- Oxygen dependence
- Progressive weight loss
- Mounting urinary difficulties
- Frequent infections
- Profound weakness and fatigue
- Steady decline in mobility
- Frequent hospitalization and ER visits

Not sure? Call us. We can make a difference in your quality of life as well as your caregiver's.
